You may e-mail comments and suggestions about the schedule to me before October 29, or attend one of the meetings. Faculty Curricular Suggestions

A survey was distributed to the full-time faculty asking:

- (1) In your opinion, which elective courses should every student take, regardless of his or her particular areas of interest.
- (2) If a student is interested in specializing in a particular substantive area, which elective courses should the student take.

The responses are set forth below.

Susan Adams, Visiting Associate Professor of Law & Director of Writing Services office: 821; extension: 65294

Every student should take: Alternative Dispute Resolution or Negotiations, Evidence, Remedies, First Amendment, Federal Courts.

Specialization - Public Interest Law: Disability Law, School Law or Family Law, Administrative Law, Interviewing and Counseling, Alternative Dispute Resolution.

Lori Andrews, Professor of Law
office: 743; extension: 65359

Of the listed courses, there are none that I feel all students absolutely must take. Students interested in specializing in health care law should take the Health Care Law class. The additional courses they take would depend a lot on what their future plans are. For those who want to work in hospitals, corporate law issues would be important. For those who want to be involved with pharmaceutical companies, patent law would be important. I think rather than trying to develop an all-purpose list for health law students, it will be important for me and other faculty members teaching in this field to make it clear that we are available to help students choose courses that fit their interests.

Negotiations to extend a decision deadline must occur with an employer before the original deadline date.

Judicial Clerkships

Judicial Clerkships: An Informational Program--Special Attention to 1998 Graduates

A special program on the value of a judicial clerkship as an entry level career opportunity will take place on Tuesday, October 22 at 5:00 pm in the Auditorium. Judicial clerkships are post-graduation full-time positions on the staff of a judge. Most federal judges hire clerks 12 to 18 months before employment starts; state judges hire clerks 1 to 12 months before employment starts.

Chicago-Kent Professors Susan Adams, Michele Baker Richardson and Richard Warner will discuss the responsibilities of clerks, the advantages of a judicial clerkship, and the application and selection process. Professor Vivien Gross will discuss the Faculty Judicial Clerkship Committee and its advisory role.

All students, including first year students, are invited to attend the program. However, our experience has shown that most clerkships are awarded to students in the top third of their class. Students graduating in 1998 are particularly urged to attend because applications to most federal and some state judges for 1998 clerkships need to be made in early spring of 1997.

1997 & 1998 Graduates seeking Judicial Clerkships: Faculty Advisors Available

All 1997 & 1998 graduates who seek counseling on judicial clerkship opportunities by a member of the Faculty Judicial Clerkship Advisory Committee need to pick up the committee's materials at the Judicial Clerkship Informational Program on October 22. CHECK IT OUT... NEWS FROM THE INFORMATION CENTER

TUTORIAL

The tutorial for the current week is FINDING FEDERAL STATUTES. The tutorials are being presented by the Reference Staff of the Information Center, and the schedule is posted on the 9th floor bulletin board. You don't have to sign up; just stop by the Reference Desk at the scheduled times. If you have any suggestions regarding future topics or the times when they are offered, please e-mail Lenore Glanz (LGLANZ). We will be happy to hear from you.

NORWEGIAN LIBRARIAN INFORMATION CENTER

On October 10, the Information Center hosted a visitor from Norway. Anne-Marie Tronslin, a law librarian from the University of Oslo, came to Chicago-Kent during her tour of several U.S. law libraries. Ms. Tronslin made the initial connection with a member of the library staff via the Internet, and spent the morning meeting with various members of the Information Center staff to learn what we do and how we do it. She was most interested in the ways in which the Information Center is at the forefront of tremendous changes in library activities, in large part because the University of Oslo law school and library are in the process of a complete metamorphosis, and their staff is seeking guidance for the steps ahead. Ms. Tronslin presented a copy of The Sayings of the Vikings (trans. by Bjorn Jonasson) to the Information Center. One of the sayings is on "Alertness:"

Better weight than wisdom
a traveler cannot carry.
A clear head
is good company.
Drink is a dangerous friend.
(Especially in the library!)

EXAMS ON eLOISe

Exam preparation time is fast approaching; don't forget to check eLOISe to see if your professor has copies of previous exams available. Stop by the Library Service Desk for a copy of our "Using eLOISe" bookmark and ask any staff member for assistance in using eLOISe.

STUDY ROOMS

Now that you've got copies of the exam - where can your study group meet to discuss it? Study rooms are available for reservation during all open Information Center hours. Bring your valid student ID to the Library Service Desk and book one!

NEWS FROM THE CENTER FOR LAW AND COMPUTERS (CLC)

CLC COMPUTER TRAINING SERIES: NAVIGATING THE INTERNET

This week's sessions discover the meanings behind the Internet's alphabet soup (http, ftp, telnet, www, gopher, etc.). We will concentrate on the best methods for using the various Windows and DOS-based Internet utilities available at Chicago-Kent, including Netscape Navigator (it does more than just surf the web) and Trumpet, our USENET news reader. Sign up in room 703 for these sessions.

Navigating the Internet: Thursday, October 24, at 12:50 pm and Friday, October 25, at 3:00 pm. The locations will be posted by e-mail.

E-MAIL TIP: READING E-MAIL ATTACHED FILES

When you receive an e-mail message with an attached file, you must save it to a disk before you can view it. Saving the file is easy:

Saving attached files in DOS e-mail:

- Press F6 to receive the attached file. A dialogue box appears with the name of the attached file(s). Use the cursor keys to highlight the file you want to receive.
- Press F2 to view the file. If the file is not pure ASCII text, you will probably see unintelligible characters on your screen.
- Press Enter to open a dialogue box to save the highlighted file. Change the directory if you need to, depending on where you want to store the document. The default file name is the name the file had when the writer sent it to you. Students should always save the file to a diskette in the A: drive.

- Press F10 to save the file.

Saving attached files in Windows e-mail:

- Click on the # Attached File(s) button or press F5. A dialogue box appears with the name of the attached file(s). Click on the name of the file with the mouse to highlight it.
- Click the Receive button to bring up a dialogue box. Enter the path and name of the file to save, or use the scroll bars with your mouse to choose the directory where you want to save the file. Select the A: drive. The default file name is the name the file had when the writer sent it to you.
- Click OK to save the file.

Files attached to e-mail messages can only be opened by the software that created them, or by software which can read their formats. When you try to open the file in another application, you usually only see incomprehensible characters. For instance, if you receive a WordPerfect 6.1 document (usually with a .wpd filename extension), you can open it with WordPerfect 6.0 or 6.1, but not with Microsoft Word. Word Documents (usually with a .doc filename extension) can be opened using WordPerfect. Out of courtesy, when you send someone an attached file, please let them know what application you used to create it.

More details are available in the HelpDocs in room 700 and the CLC offices on the seventh floor, or at http://ck/support/help_docs/.

ORGANIZATIONS

FROM MARK SCOTT, PRESIDENT OF THE STUDENT BAR ASSOCIATION

The SBA would like to congratulate Wamaid Mestey-Borges on her recent election as President of the Midwest Region's Hispanic National Bar Association/Law Student Division. There are nine states in her region. It is great to see the growing number of Chicago-Kent students that are involved with organizations outside the walls of the law school.

Several members of the Chicago-Kent community asked me for the name of the student that I announced as coming in second place in her division at the Race Ipsa Loquitur. Well, we are happy to announce that Joanna Kielczewski is the person. She also achieved the fastest time for any Chicago-Kent participant.

Old Business:

1. Polls: Please pick up a copy of the report that details the poll results. We provided a copy of the report to each faculty member and to the appropriate administration members. The detailed report includes all of the written comments provided by the student population. In addition, we determined means of each question for each class and division. The level of disparity between the classes is interesting.

2. October Social: We hope you enjoyed the October Social at the OTB. Please direct comments to SBAQ. Please see the November Nitecap announcement, below.

3. Fall Lecture Series: Please be advised that the SBA's Fall Lecture Series will take place during the first week of November. The theme for the lecture series is "Emerging Legal Issues for the 21st Century." On November 4-7, the SBA will host several speakers that are expected to deliver riveting perspectives on a wide variety of topics. A pamphlet detailing the speakers and topics will be available before the beginning of the events. The following speakers have confirmed:

Monday, November 4 -- Panel:
Emerging Medical Issues:

Lori Andrews, Professor of Law

Emerging Civil Rights Issues:

Standish Willis, Attorney

Tuesday, November 5 -- Keynote:
Emerging Ethical/Professionalism Issues:

Dan Webb, Attorney and former United States Attorney General

Wednesday, November 6 -- Panel:
Emerging Human Rights Issues:

Dr. Robert Kirschner, Director of the International Forensic Program for the Physicians for Human Rights and former Cook County Medical Examiner

Emerging International Trial Issues:

Bartram Brown, Assistant Professor of Law

On November 7, we will hold a panel discussion on Emerging Technology and Cyberlaw Issues. We have not received speaker confirmations. If you are interested in assisting in the development of the events, please contact Jenni Henley, Speakers Program Committee, Chair.

New Business:

1. Faculty Meeting: We would like to thank Janine Girzadas, President of the Moot Court Honor Society, for accompanying me to the October 15 faculty meeting. During the meeting, we discussed the applicability of the grading curve to certain upper division classes. I voted to exempt Appellate Advocacy and Judicial Externship from the mandatory grade curve. The motion passed.

2. Poll #3: We are currently working on Poll #3. This poll will focus on the Information Center (Library). We invited Professor Voges, Director of the Legal Information Center, to participate in the content of the poll. She agreed to work with us. If you would like for us to consider a particular issue, please send the information to SBAQ.

3. Internet Home Page: We are developing an Internet web site. The site will include the following types of information: SBA Constitution and By-Laws; Board of Governors' meeting minutes, resolutions and voting records, polls <electronic processing> and poll results, budgets, and election rules.

4. November Nitecap: The SBA November social is scheduled for Thursday, November 7. The event will be held from 7:00 pm to 11:00 pm. The location has not been decided; however, please mark your calendars. If you would like to suggest a location for any SBA monthly social, please contact Jonathan Gelperin, Social Committee, Chair.

Thank you.

OUTLINES NEEDED - any 2Ls or 3Ls that have outlines for Con Law, Crim Pro, or Sales, WE NEED YOU! Those of you who are willing to donate to our collection would be doing us a huge favor. Just send them by e-mail to MSMEJKAL. Thanks!

WIL is co-sponsoring, with GayLaw and KJF, a forum on domestic violence within homosexual relationships. The forum will be held on October 23 at 3:00 pm in the Auditorium. This event promises to be very interesting, and we encourage all of our membership to attend.

Professor JC Smith of the University of British Columbia Faculty of Law, who will deliver the Green Lecture in Law and Technology at noon on Tuesday, November 5, is also the co-author, with Carla J. Ferstman, of a book recently published by New York University Press, entitled The Castration of Oedipus; Feminism, Psychoanalysis, and the Will to Power. The book draws from the work of Nietzsche, Freud, Lacan and Derrida, and ends up with a challenging reversal-of-power thesis. Professor Smith would be very interested in discussing the book with interested faculty and students on Monday, November 5 in the afternoon (time TBA). This is a great opportunity to meet a scholar of feminism in a relaxed, informal forum. Please contact TPETRUSO if you would like to attend and to voice a preference for the time of the talk.

Look for an upcoming forum on Late-term/ Partial Birth Abortion that WIL is co-sponsoring with The Federalist Society. The emphasis of the forum will be on the legal implications of the bill prohibiting partial birth abortion that was recently vetoed by President Clinton and what it will mean legally if that veto is overturned by Congress. Particular emphasis will be on the impact such a law would have on previous abortion decisions. The forum will take place either in late October or early November.

Also coming in early November is our annual Fall Reception. At the reception we will pair 1L mentees with their mentors. If you are a 1L and would like a mentor, or if you are a 2L, 3L or 4L and would like to be a mentor and have not yet signed up, please e-mail RDONEGAN.

Next week we will be having committee meetings. If you would like to be on a committee and have not yet signed up, please e-mail EPARKS. The committees are: Speaker Series, Fundraising, Special Events, Community Service and Public Relations. Look for times of meetings to be announced.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE

Re: Team Tryouts

Tryouts for the 1997 Chicago-Kent Trial Advocacy Team will be held on Wednesday, November 13, 1996. All interested persons should meet at 5:00 p.m. at the Abraham Lincoln Marovitz Courtroom at the school. The only requirement is that you are a full-time Kent student.

The Regional Competition will be held in the second week of February, 1997. Winners of that round will go to Texas for the final round in the first week in April. This is the major national trial competition for law schools. It begins with more than 200 teams throughout the country. For the past two years, Chicago-Kent has been the Regional Champion and has gone on to participate in the national competition.

There are five team positions open. We plan to chose six students at the open tryouts and from these six, four will become team members. Those who are chosen will begin practicing almost immediately. Please do not try out unless you are willing to commit a substantial part of your life to preparing for the Competition. Our purpose is to turn you into trial lawyers.

During the tryouts you will be asked to present up to five minutes of an opening statement, closing argument, and direct and cross-examination. We will be using State v. Fletcher & Morris, case file #8.11. The witnesses will be Richard Edwards and Samuel Green. Please prepare an opening and a closing for one side, not both. Prepare a direct for one of the witnesses and a cross for the other. We expect to announce the winners on the night of the tryouts, so please be prepared to wait until the decisions have been made by the coaching staff.

If you have any questions, please call Judge David Erickson at (312)890-7425.
